Our Community

A Meal. A Home. A Future.

Manny, 52, often stopped at Blanchet House for a free hot breakfast on his bike ride to work. He wasn't able to cook at the house he rented.

The house where Manny lived was infested with pests, violent roommates, and drugs. It was unsafe and not easy for him to maintain sobriety.

After eating at Blanchet for a few months he learned about the transitional housing offered there. He was accepted into the residential program and his new life began.

"I certainly could not have afforded to live somewhere else," Manny said. "It would have been a shelter, or in the streets."
